As I rounded above curve I noticed a young woman coming towards car, she was crossing eight St, car was running about two or three miles an hour. I saw she was determined to go ahead, so I stoped immediately, she walked up against first standhion, screamed and fell to the ground, I picked her up she said she was all right & not hurt, & refused to give her name, she walked down eight St towards Bryant. She was under the influence of liquor, I judge so by her speech & breath.
